

Join the Roar: 5 Keys to Finding an Amazing College Experience

UNIVERSITY OF THE PACIFIC

Colleges, like people, are all unique and appealing in their own ways, and you want to find one that will help give you the experience that you've always imagined for yourself. To get started, here are a few key actions you can take!

1. Find your passion

What makes you YOU? Take a moment to consider what you love to explore. Maybe it's an area of study, philanthropic goal or especially meaningful hobby. And when you find one or two that truly stand out to you, look for a school that can support these passions, whether through clubs or organizations, academic options or community involvement.

At Pacific, we value your dreams, your goals and your causes. You'll find a number of ways to create an education that's right for you, from customizing one (or more) of our 80+ majors (with the opportunity to earn dual degrees!) to getting involved with the tight-knit Stockton community. It's easy to find and pursue your passions here!

Pacific is a campus that embraces diversity, equity and inclusion. In fact, U.S. News & World Report ranks us #7 for "Ethnic Diversity in California".

2. Find your place

Location is key. You'll want to find a school that is ideally located for you to get involved in the community, so your life there can feel familial. You'll also want to explore career paths you can grow into after graduation. Think about what's important to you, and find a place where you can have it all!

University of the Pacific has a little bit of everything: Our green and picturesque campus in Stockton is located in Northern California, giving students unparalleled access to an important and fast-growing economic, cultural and governmental region. Plus, Sacramento, San Francisco, Silicon Valley and Yosemite aren't far!

HEAR OUR ROAR

Our campus in Stockton is home to the Conservatory of Music and the Faye Spanos Concert Hall, which was featured in the first Indiana Jones movie!

3. Find your path

It's important to stay true to yourself when exploring your career pathway. Be sure to explore all the academic support and career resources that colleges offer, so you can get a head start on discovering, interviewing for and landing your dream job.

Students at Pacific can stroll confidently toward their unique paths with the help of our hands-on career services, internship opportunities and undergraduate research with top faculty.

Tigers can access our Career Closet stocked full of professional attire for interviews and internships. They can also take advantage of our interview rooms or professional headshot sessions!

4. Find your team

A college where you can make lifelong connections and build a network will take you far—prioritize schools where lots of personal support is ready to build with you. Look out for colleges with members for your perfect team, including like-minded peers and classmates, attentive teachers and mentors, active community leaders and more.

Pacific Tigers find individualized support from teachers due to our small class settings (our student-to-faculty ratio is just 14:1). You can find your people in one (or more!) of our 150+ student-led clubs and organizations, sports clubs or intramural teams.

HEAR OUR ROAR

The networking doesn't stop after graduation! There are Tigers all over the world in every area you can imagine, from politics to professional sports, entertainment to education, science to social justice.

5. Find amazing value

The best colleges combine affordable tuition and the preparation that leads to immediate success after graduation. Consider what a school has to offer for career outcomes by checking out student success stories. And then consider the financial support they offer by looking for scholarships, grants, loans and work-study programs.

Pacific students pave a road to professional fulfillment at an affordable price. Thanks to our experiential learning opportunities and professional development resources, more than 85% of Pacific graduates are employed within the field they studied or are enrolled in graduate school immediately after graduation.

HEAR OUR ROAR

Approximately 90% of our Tigers receive some form of financial aid and Pacific ranks in the top 20% among universities with students graduating with the lowest debt. We're also ranked #1 in career earnings among low-income students!

Find out for yourself!

As you continue cultivating the ideal college experience for you, we'd love for you to see what that experience could be at Pacific: Watch our student-led virtual tour, schedule an in-person tour with your family and sign up for one of our admission events!
